The rise of “virtual communities”

Cyberspace: The New Jerusalem

...imagine a world in which our sense of identity and community truly cohabitates the real and virtual realms. In the future, communities formed by ideas will be as strong as those formed by the forces of physical proximity. Kids will not know the meaning of nationalism. ... Local governance will abound. A united planet is certain... Already today, belonging to a digital culture binds people more strongly than the territorial adhesives of geography - if all parties are truly digital.

VIRTUAL  NEW YORK CITY

The Rise of “Virtual Communities,” I

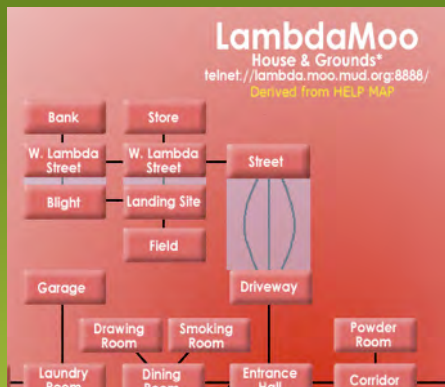

1978-79: Early MUDS (Multi-User Dungeons) enable players of text-adventure games to interact & team up.

1979 > Early BBS's (Bulletin Board services) allow users to connect via modem to a common server & post messages.

1980: USENET → “poor man’s ARPANET” to allow users to exchange email & software.

1990: First MOOs [“MUD Object Oriented”] created at Xerox Palo Alto Research center.

The Rise of “Virtual Communities,” II

1985: Stewart Brand & Larry Brilliant found the BBS The WELL (Whole Earth 'Lectronic Link), which becomes an influential “virtual community” providing email, forums, etc.

1986: Matchmaker dating service begun as text-based BBS, adding to groups like soc.singles, etc

1995 Craig Newmark founds Craigslist in San Francisco for posting of local events; by 2000, expanded to 9 cities.

The birth of spam

“Spam is the shadow history, the negative space, of the concept of community online” Finn Brunton

1971: sysadmin “abuses” MIT time-sharing system w/ “to all” msg:
THERE IS NO WAY TO PEACE. PEACE IS THE WAY.”

5/1/1978: “Proto-Spam” message sent to 593 addresses on ARPAnet,
DIGITAL WILL BE GIVING A PRODUCT PRESENTATION OF THE NEWEST MEMBERS OF THE DECSYSTEM-20 FAMILY

Early 1980’s: Users of BBS and MUDs take to repeating “spam” & bits of Monty Python routine to annoy other users or drive newbies out of the discussion.

1994: “Green Card spam” sent by Canter & Siegel law firm as bulk Usenet posting.

By mid-1990’s, AOL is selling mailing list of 37m for $50k

Responses: harassment & vigilanteism, parliamentarianism, authoritarianism

The Beginnings of Social Networking Sites

1997: Slashdot created to provide user-generated “News for nerds.” Becomes wildly popular antecedent of blogs.

1997 Sixdegrees.com founded, social networking site that achieved 1m members and anticipated Friendster, MySpace, LinkedIn & FaceBook etc.

The growth of social

The complications of “community”

The complications of “community”

“Community” usually implies rich interaction around common interests

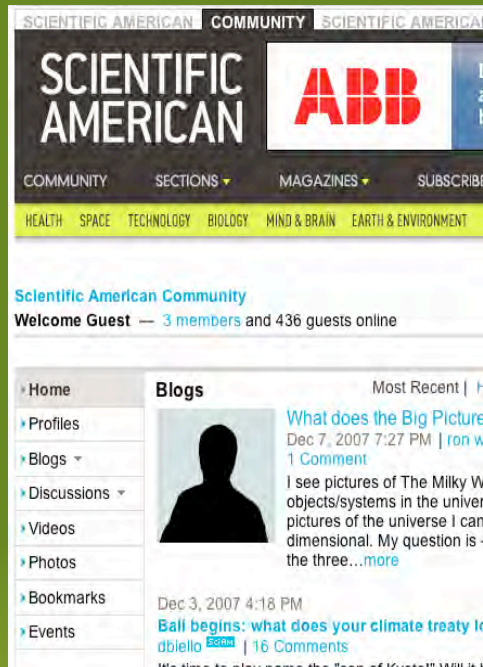

Online interaction creates or strengthens groups organized around significant common interests; e.g., sexual orientation, political activism, medical conditions...

But "community" is also used for almost any kind of group formed online... so long as it's judged positive

The complications of “community”

“Community” usually implies rich interaction around common interests

Online interaction creates or strengthens groups organized around significant common interests;

Community can be the warmly persuasive word to describe an existing set of relationships, or the warmly persuasive word to describe an alternative set of relationships. Most important, ...unlike all other terms of social organization (state, nation, society, etc.) it seems never to be used unfavourably...

LAST night 40,000 people rented accommodation from a service that offers 250,000 rooms in 30,000 cities in 192 countries. They chose their rooms and paid for everything online. But their beds were provided by private individuals, rather than a hotel chain.

Reproducing Offline Social Divisions

What distinguishes adoption of MySpace and Facebook among American teens is not cleanly about race or class, ... The division can be seen through the lens of taste and aesthetics, two value-laden elements that are deeply entwined with race and class. It can also be seen through the network structures of teen friendship, which are also directly connected to race and class. And it can be seen through the language that teens – and adults – use to describe these sites....

Reproducing Offline Social Divisions

Cheesy or creative; classy or boring?

'MySpace is for the riff-raff and Facebook is for the landed gentry.'

'MySpace just seems like the other side of the tracks.'

Do social media always reproduce offline categories?

Political organization online

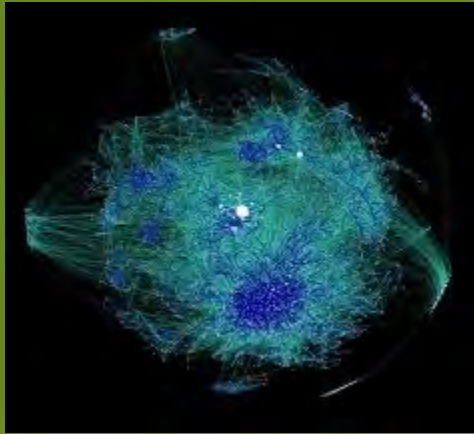

1998 Moveon.org founded to militate for moving past Clinton impeachment hearings. In 2003, becomes important channel for opposition to Iraq war, major source of funding for antiwar candidates.

2002 Meetup.com founded to facilitate offline meeting and networking of interest groups. During buildup to campaign, it becomes an important source of grassroots political organization for Howard Dean campaign, later for Kerry & Edwards.

Is the Internet a Community?

Visualization of the blogosphere

Cf. James F. Moore (Berkman Center), on "the global consciousness of the second superpower," March 2003:

The Internet and other interactive media continue to penetrate more and more deeply all world society... The collective power of texting, blogging, instant messaging, and email across millions of actors cannot be overestimated. Like a mind constituted of millions of inter-networked neurons, the social movement is capable of astonishingly rapid and sometimes subtle community consciousness and action...

Online Political Discourse

Claims about online political discourse

The internet

Broadens access to information

Broadens the opportunity to speak.

Increases the number of information sources, bypassing media "gatekeepers" or official censors.

Offers information about a wider range of topics, and more information and opinion on any given topic.

Provides more reliable ways of checking or interpreting information, and gives citizens more opportunity to verify information

Claims about online political discourse

The internet

Restricts the exchange of information and opinion to a more closed, like-minded group (silo effect)

Exposes people to more information that is misleading, inaccurate, extreme, inflammatory, etc.;

Eliminates the guidance that the traditional media provided.

Widens the divisions between the informed and ill-informed sectors of the public.

Polarization and the "Siloing" of Political Discourse

Online discourse facilitates "siloing" of political discourse...

But siloing has independent offline roots

Polarization of political language on the Internet mirrors polarization of elite/activist views and the increasing importance of elective associations (geographical, occupational)

Participation in online political discourse

Participation in online political discourse

Does the net level the informational playing field?

Initially, those with access tend to be younger, college-educated, male, white...

Curves of access are flattening...

But among those w/access, older users are more likely to be daily users...

	Millennials Ages 18-33	Gen X Ages 34-45	Younger Boomers Ages 46-55	Older Boomers Ages 56-64	Silent Gen. Ages 65-73	G.I. Gen. Age 74+	All online adults Age 18+

The virtual Bowery

[The Internet is] a place where crime is rampant and every twisted urge can be satisfied. Thousands of virtual streets are lined with casinos, porn shops, and drug dealers. Scam artists and terrorists skulk behind seemingly lawful Web sites. And cops wander through once in a while, mostly looking lost. It's the Strip in Las Vegas, the Red Light district in Amsterdam, and New York's Times Square at its worst, all rolled into one -- and all easily accessible from your living room couch.

Varieties of "Rotten Information"

Problems of authenticity: fakes, hoaxes, forgeries, plagiarism, etc.

Problems of quality: reliability and “authoritativeness”

Problems of “pollution”: pornography, violence, racism & hate speech, predators, incivility, etc.

Mary Douglas: "Dirt is matter out of place... Dirt then, is never a unique, isolated event. Where there is dirt there is a system. Dirt is the by-product of a systematic ordering and classification of matter, in so far as ordering involves rejecting inappropriate elements."

How to tell pollution from the merely "unacceptable"?

Not a word have I discovered in Franklin's letters and papers expressing any such sentiments against the Jews as are ascribed to him by the Nazis — American and German." Charles Beard, NY Times, March 10, 1937.

Shakespeare's plays, Einstein's theories — and porn queen Jenna Jameson's steamy on-screen sexcapades.

New Yorkers can take their pick at the city's public libraries, thanks to a policy that gives a the most uncensored access to extreme, hard-core Internet smut this side of the old Time Square.

The story was first followed by the headline of free speech and the protection of the First

"What they're doing is publicly funding an appetite for the most debased fare available," said Catholic League President Bill Donohue. "It's not like a Playboy centerfold anymore — it's far worse."

Ah, L.A. City Hall, always tackling the Big Issue. Like cat declawing and an Arizona business boycott that has no teeth.

And now the accidental, over-the-shoulder viewing of internet porn at public libraries is a matter of serious inquiry among city officials.

Yes, this was actually a major topic of discussion at the Arts, Parks, Health and Aging Committee meeting this week.

And what was done about it?

Why nothing, of course.

The profusion of pornography

Whereas pornography was once furtively glimpsed at dimly lighted newsstands or seedy adult theaters, today it is everywhere. It pours in over the Internet, sometimes uninvited, sometimes via eagerly forwarded links...

...Whereas children used to supplement sex education by tearing through National Geographic in search of naked aboriginals ... today many are confronted by pornographic images on a daily basis. In a 2001 poll by the Kaiser Family Foundation, 70% of 15-to 17-year-olds said they had accidentally come across pornography online.

By DANIEL WAGNER, AP Business Writer - Fri Apr 23, 12:14 pm ET

WASHINGTON - Republicans are stepping up their criticism of the Securities and Exchange Commission following reports that senior agency staffers spent hours surfing pornographic websites on government-issued computers while they were supposed to be policing the nation's financial system.

"More than 4 million Web sites worldwide show images of children being sexually exploited, said the U.N. investigator on the sale of children, child prostitution and child pornography... "

It is estimated that 100,000 sites contain child pornography."

"A total of 4.2 million websites contain pornography."

< 1% of Websites contain porn. Philip B. Stark UCB, 2006 (100-200m sites in all)

... But what do the numbers really mean?

Social, Economic & Institutional Responses to Internet Pornography

Libraries can regulate use by means of use policies, training and guidance, monitoring of logs, tap-on-the-shoulder policies, etc.

Rights of other patrons can be protected by privacy screens, etc.

Parents can assume responsibility for monitoring kids' surfing.

Providers can offer "greenspace" browsers for kids.

The New Bestiary: Flamers, Trolls, Sock Puppets, Bullies...

...there are no more assholes walking the earth than there used to be when they went by other names. But it's fair to say that [the age] has created a host of new occasions for acting like assholes and new ways of performing assholism... In their power and ubiquity, digital technologies introduce hitherto unimaginable possibilities for being uncivil and inconsiderate: cyber-bullying, tweeting or checking your mail in the middle of a meeting, posting anonymous defamations about an ex-boss or ex-girlfriend..., lurking and trolling on blogs and discussion lists, and all the other forms of misbehavior that new media have given rise to.
